Ladies and Gentlemen...we have a tie. I know this will not sit well with some of you, but as the curator of the site, I have flipped a two-headed coin and the winner is RoguesPlus.net. Here are the final results of the survey:

Now, I did everything in my power to be fair and make this a democratic process. Had there been a clear winner, I surely would have gone with it...without regard to my own personal favorite. Please believe me when I say I accepted no favors from any lobby in making this decision, nor was I threatened or blackmailed in any way.

The great part of all this, is that now we can get the site underway and begin developing it to its fullest potential! By this time next week, I should have the domain resolved and the site relocated. Once the move is completed, some new features will be added which will make the site more interactive and informative. I hope you are all as excited as I am about this...with your help, we can really turn this into a powerful tool that can be valuable to veterans and newbies alike.

Long live the Serif Rogues!
